MOUNTAINEERING - VINCENT PYRAMID

Duration: 4

Fitness: ▲▲▲▲▲ Technique: ▲▲▲▲▲

Price from: 995 €

High altitudes are enticing, but you might be uncertain about how your body will respond. Our program ensures a gradual approach to higher altitudes. After two days of acclimatization on the Glacier du Tour in the Mont Blanc Massif, we will venture to the Monte Rosa Massif for the ascent of one of its peaks, the Vincent Pyramid (4,215 m), from the Italian side. This program is designed for individuals interested in exploring the high-altitude environment. It also offers the opportunity to acquire fundamental mountaineering techniques and skills, including the use of crampons and ice axes.

Although this trip is our introductory offer to high altitudes, it remains physically demanding. Regular participation in an endurance sport ensures that you are in good physical shape to embark on this adventure. If you have any doubts about your abilities, our advisors will help you choose the program that is right for you.

ITINERARY

Start in the village of Le Tour (1450m). We use the ski lifts to take us up to near the Col de Balme (2100m). ##### Ascent of the Tête Blanche (3421m)

We head out by the light of our headtorches. We quickly reach the Tour glacier where we put our crampons on. We walk up the gentle slopes of the glacier to the summit of the Tête Blanche.
