VALLEE BLANCHE - SKIING

Duration: 1

Difficulty: ▲▲▲▲▲

Price from: 155 €

Aiguille du Midi summit - 3,842m. Panoramic views of Mont-Blanc and 4,000m peaks: Grandes Jorasses, Dent du Géant, Aiguille Verte... A breathtaking landscape featuring glaciers and rocky peaks. The descent from Aiguille du Midi, equipped with fixed ropes in the winter season, provides access to the Vallée Blanche ski route: 23 kilometers and 2,000 meters of elevation gain in an exceptional glacial environment. Skiing across slopes and bowls, you'll navigate through seracs and crevasses. Optionally, take a lunch break at Refuge du Requin, facing the impressive serac fall of Glacier du Géant. At the snout of Mer de Glace, two options for returning to Chamonix exist. Traditionally, the cable car from the glacier connects you to the Montanvers train, then Chamonix. With excellent snow conditions, skiing down to the valley is possible. A walk of about 25 minutes with an elevation gain of 200 meters is required to reach Mottets Hut at 1,650m before continuing on skis.

The Vallée Blanche is undoubtedly the most famous off-piste ski itinerary in the French Alps, taking place on glaciers at high altitude. Enjoy a true alpine adventure with our Mountain Guides! The Vallée Blanche is skiable from mid-December to early May. Season after season, global warming profoundly alters the morphology of glaciers, and the Vallée Blanche is no exception. If you've skied this route before, you may be very surprised. In typical conditions, skiing the Vallée Blanche requires the ability to navigate narrow and mogul-covered slopes, as well as some experience skiing off the edges of groomed pistes to fully enjoy the descent.

In fresh snow conditions, the descent of the Vallée Blanche becomes considerably more technical. It requires the ability to ski in deep, untracked powder—often several dozen centimeters—as well as equipment suited to these conditions. If you have any doubts about your abilities, speak with our advisors or your guide.

GROUP BOOKING

The group session joins together people who do not necessarily know each other. It is ideal for people looking for the friendliness of a group at an attractive price. No snowboarders in group booking, only in private booking

Dates (group booking) : See online booking

Guiding policy (group booking) : Group from 3 to 6 people. The number of participants per guide may vary depending on the glacier. 15 years old minimum accompanied by a parent

Meeting point (group booking) : 8.45am at the bottom of the Aiguille du Midi (Info Point)

Route (group booking) : Vallee Blanche classic

Prices 2025 (group booking) :

- 155€ per person without lift pass.

- 90€ per person for the lift pass including Aiguille du Midi and Montanvers cog train. No refund if you do not take the Montanvers train. If you buy your lift pass on your own on the same day, you need to be at the Aiguille du Midi lift station at least half an hour before the appointment time as there is often queuing at the ticket office

- the lift pass depending on the package
- the lunch
- a backpack on which you can attach your skis (mandatory)
- a pair of crampons properly adjusted on your ski boots (mandatory)

PRIVATE BOOKING

A private booking is the historic relationship between a guide and their clients. It allows you to be alone or in a group of friends with your guide where the guide organizes your outing to suit your specific needs. It is undoubtedly the ideal formula to ski the route of your choice.

For snowboarders : Due to the natural configuration of the glaciers, the classic route of the Vallée Blanche is not very steep and therefore is not recommended for snowboarders. Several steeper variants (Petit et Moyen Envers du Plan for example) are better adapted for snowboarders. The level required for these variants is equivalent to that of a black slope in off-slope conditions (changing and deep snow). Telescopic poles are mandatory to help your descent on the final part of the glacier.

Dates (private booking) : See online booking. No online booking in early season - Contact us

Route (private booking) : La Vallée Blanche offers several routes (Classic, Petit Envers, Moyen Envers, etc.). The route will be chosen based on conditions and your expectations. This reservation includes only the descent of Vallée Blanche. Typically, the return to Chamonix takes place in the early afternoon. If you wish to extend your exploration of the valley with your guide or ski the Vallée Blanche a second time, please make a reservation through our "Chamonix, Your Way" formula. Be sure to specify whether you want to ski the Vallée Blanche twice or extend with off-piste skiing.

Meeting point (private booking) : Between 8:00 AM and 9:30 AM at the Aiguille du Midi cable car station. Your guide will contact you by phone around 6:30 PM the day before to confirm the exact time. We strongly advise you to rent your equipment in advance. If you need to rent your equipment on the same morning, please inform us when making your reservation

Guiding policy (private booking) : Group from 1 to 6 people. The number of participants per guide may vary depending on the glacier. 12 years old minimum accompanied by a parent

Prices 2025 (private booking) :

Group from 1 to 2 people : 390€

Group from 3 to 4 people : 420€

Group from 5 to 6 people : 450€

You can buy your ski passes (Aiguilles du Midi + Montenvers train ->90€) from the Compagnie des Guides. No refund if you do not take the Montenvers train

The price includes :

- the guiding fees
- the safety equipment (harness and transceiver)
- reservation of the Aiguille du Midi cable car

The price does not include :

- your personal gear (ski poles, skis, boots...)
- the lifts (lkon pass not valid)
