BIODIVERSITY - EXCURSION AROUND THE MER DE GLACE GLACIER

Duration: 3

Fitness: ▲▲▲▲▲ Technique: ▲▲▲▲▲

Price from: 750 €

Overlooking the Mer de Glace, the balcony trails offer unique views of how the high mountains are evolving in response to climate change, particularly through changes in flora and the accelerated melting of glaciers. Frequentated since the 19th century, the Mer de Glace balconies remain exceptional today for their beauty, isolation, and the richness of their alpine flora. Over the course of three days, you will not only explore these mountain landscapes but also observe and better understand the transformations of the Mont Blanc Massif. This excursion is designed for experienced off-trail hikers with a curiosity for nature. Our high mountain guides will accompany you on this immersive journey, with the legendary Couvercle and Leschaux huts as your stages along the way.

On the itinerary: glacier trekking, traversing moraines, and hiking steep paths with ladder crossings. The summit you will reach is one of wonder and discovery, confronting a mountain that is ever-changing, yet still retaining its beauty and mystery.

ITINERARY

Day 1

Ascent to the Charpoua Hut

We take the cogwheel train up to Montenvers (1,913 m), then the new cable car onto the Mer de Glace (1,700 m). From there, a winding trail with ladders leads us through the Charpoua cirque, offering spectacular panoramic views along the way. The ascent ends at the beautifully renovated Charpoua Hut (2023), perched at 2,841 m, a quiet guardian of this wild valley.

Elevation gain: 1,150 m

Day 2

Crossing to the Couvercle Hut

We start with a detour to the heights of Charpoua, where the rare Saussure's androsace blooms among the rocks. Then the narrow, winding trail with ladders leads along the austere flanks of the Aiguille du Moine, offering stunning views of the Mer de Glace and surrounding peaks. The crossing ends at the beautifully renovated Couvercle Hut (2023), perched at 2,679 m, a guardian of this exceptional Mont Blanc balcony.

Elevation gain: 500 m - Descent: 700 m

Day 3

Return to Montenvers

For the return, we can retrace the previous route or take a detour via the Leschaux Hut, offering a unique view of the Grandes Jorasses. This wilder path extends our immersion in the massif, revealing glaciers and iconic rock faces from a new perspective. The trail gradually leads back to the Mer de Glace, where we catch the Montenvers cable car, marking the end of our journey.

Descent: 1,000 m
