DISCOVERY HIKE - CHAMONIX VALLEY, EASY LEVEL

Duration: 6

Fitness: ▲▲▲▲▲ Technique: ▲▲▲▲▲

Price from: 1 400 €

Do you want to test your ability with a full week of hiking or simply enjoy the most beautiful landscapes of the Chamonix Valley on easy hikes? This trip is for you. We begin with three days of daily hikes from our hotel in Chamonix, our base camp for this adventure. Well-prepared, we then set off for two days of trekking at the foot of the Aravis mountain range, spending a night in a comfortable mountain refuge before concluding our trip with a spectacular visit to the Aiguille du Midi and the unmissable hike along the Grand Balcon Nord. Our stay will also include a visit to a local farm with a tasting of regional cheeses.

ITINERARY

Day 1

Chailloux Alpine Pasture (Aiguillette des Houches)

We begin our hike at the hamlet of La Flatière and start the ascent to the Chailloux alpine pasture. From up there, Mont Blanc seems within reach. It's possible to continue the climb to the Aiguillette des Houches (2286m). From the summit, a 360° panorama unfolds before us.

Distance: 3.7miles to 5.6 miles / Elevation gain: 1912ft to 3280ft / Elevation loss: 1912ft to 3280ft

Day 2

Aiguillette des Posettes

We head to the hamlet of Le Tour to begin our hike. The ascent starts in the forest. Gradually, we reach the alpine pastures, and the view opens up to the surrounding peaks. At the summit, we enjoy breathtaking views of the Mont Blanc massif, the Tour Glacier, the Buet, and the Perrons.

Distance: approximately 4.4 miles / Elevation gain: approximately 2362ft / Elevation loss: approximately 2362ft

Day 3

Ayères loop from Servoz

Head to the village of Servoz to begin exploring the Ayères Loop. The steep but steady climb takes us through the hamlets of Servoz. We then leave the inhabited areas to cut through the forest and reach the alpine pastures dominated by the impressive cliffs of the Fiz. We will discover the history of mountain pastoral life through the high-altitude hamlets of Ayères. As we begin the descent, the Mont Blanc massif unfolds majestically before us. We then discover the Lac Vert nestled in its natural setting before crossing the old village of Servoz to return to our starting point.

Distance: approximately 6.8 miles / Elevation gain: approximately 2919ft / Elevation loss: approximately 2919ft

Day 4

Refuge du Tornieux

It's time to take on this week's challenge: a two-day multi-day hike with an overnight stay in a mountain refuge. Follow your guide's advice to pack your bag and set off with only the essentials. The hike begins in Les Planes, above Sallanches. The trail leads us to the Doran alpine pasture at the foot of the Aravis mountain range. We walk into the valley overlooked by cliffs and then continue the ascent towards the Arête des Saix ridge. We admire the panoramic view of Mont Blanc before descending to the Tornieux Refuge where we will spend the night.

Distance: approximately 4 miles / Elevation gain: approximately 2657ft / Elevation loss: approximately 1515ft

Day 5

Refuge du Tornieux - Pierre fendue - Sallanches and Farm Visit with Cheese Tasting

We leave our bags at the refuge and take advantage of the morning to hike to the Cascade des Fours waterfall and the striking

Pierre Fendue. We return to the refuge to collect our belongings before heading back to the starting point of our hike. We spend the late afternoon visiting a farm and tasting local cheeses. We end the day by returning to our hotel in Chamonix.

Distance: approximately 6.1 miles / Elevation gain: approximately 1627ft / Elevation loss: approximately 2568ft

Day 6

Chamonix - Mer de Glace - Aiguille du Midi

Our trip concludes with one of the most spectacular hikes in the valley. Departing from Chamonix, we will take the famous Montenvers cog railway, which overlooks the Mer de Glace glacier. We'll begin our hike with the magnificent traverse of the north "balcony" to the Plan de l'Aiguille. The cable car will take us to the 12604ft summit of the Aiguille du Midi. After our visit, we'll descend back to Chamonix by cable car.

Distance: approximately 3.5 miles / Elevation gain: approximately 1715ft / Elevation loss: approximately 459ft
